

Snack Sacks Needs Your Help!

This year, Snack Sacks is going bigger than ever! We have three schools that have requested our services, and we are starting the school year off with at least 40 more bags! That means we will pack almost 200 bags each week at a minimum! So, take a minute to reflect on how you can help this program which has given Lexington United Methodist nation-wide attention.

The following are descriptions of the help that we need, and if you are interested, please provide the requested information on the back of this sheet. Then, drop your sheet in the offering plate. A Snack Sack committee member will contact you to get you started!

Supervising Packing: We would like to have volunteers take one month and supervise the group that is packing each week throughout the month. That's only four times you would need to be present on Wednesday evenings or Sunday mornings to make sure packing runs smoothly.

Shopping: We would like to have a volunteer who is responsible for one month's worth of shopping. Depending on donations received, this could be a very large shopping trip or just picking up a few items that we need restocked. Most of our shopping is done at Sam's.

Packing Coordinators: A volunteer would take one month and make sure we have packers for each week during the month. Then, you would email or call a contact person for the group to remind about the packing time.

Snack Sack Room Organizers: These volunteers would check the Snack Sack room each Sunday before leaving church and confirm that the room is ready for the next packing session. If we are running low on food or need the room re-stocked, you would be responsible for contacting the Snack Sack Committee member assigned to re-stocking.

Re-stockers: These volunteers assist in have the food ready and bags pre-counted for each week's packing session.

Bag counters: These volunteers pre-count bags for the packing sessions, clipping the counted bags with numbered clothes pins. This can be done at your convenience and dropped off at the church once counted.

*As always, PACKERS are needed, and church groups are encouraged to sign up for a week or more than one week to pack. See Snack Sack calendar outside of Asbury Hall to sign up! *****
